Biography

Sally Reid is a Quantum Alignment Coach who helps people heal emotionally and physically when other methods of healing have failed them.

After a near death experience expanded her natural psychic abilities, Sally discovered that she was able to see energy flow in the body and easily trace energetic patterns through space and time to the origin of the issue. She then quickly re-aligns the patterns to the highest good of her client.

Being in alignment allows people to quickly overcome previously impossible problems and succeed when they have failed in the past.

Sally teaches that by learning to work with your natural sensitivities, instead of resisting them, life is much more fulfilling and joyful.
